Continuation of 3. NOTE: the amendments raise new issues since they were not presented before final rejection. The new limitations require further search and were not in any of the claims before final rejection.

Continuation of 11. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: of the reasons of record. Applicant requests the examiner to drop the finality of the last office action but it was made properly final. Applicant presented claim limitations that prompted the examiner to apply new art. By inserting "ingestible" this made the art that the examiner applied no longer valid. By amending the claims to narrow the scope to what the "heart" of their invention was is understood, but the amendment did make it necessary to apply new art. Applicant's amendment clearly changed the claimed invention so that the examiner did have to find new art, thus the applicant's amendment did necessiate the new grounds of rejection.
